

Strategic response to Romania's SAFE RFI reinforces local defence industry and European defence cooperation

Bucharest / Gardone Val Trompia, 28 November 2025

Fabbrica d'Armi Pietro Beretta S.p.A. has formally submitted its response to the Request for Information (RFI) issued by the SAFE Technical Secretariat of the Romanian Government. The submission outlines a comprehensive and forward-looking proposal to strengthen Romania's defence industrial capabilities while contributing to the broader resilience of the European defence ecosystem.

This proposal offers a structured industrial model that combines advanced manufacturing, technology transfer, and Romanian-based industrial implementation while remaining within the European compliance frameworks and coordinated defence procurement initiatives.

Beretta offers an extensive portfolio of cutting edge, high-tech, state-of-the-art solutions designed to meet Romania's defence requirements due to the company's well-known and extensive approach to comprehensive problem solving.

Strengthening local industrial capacity through European integration

This Beretta proposal establishes Romania's collaboration within the European Defence Industrial Base in a manner that follows the EU established criteria and reinforces long-term operations in a sustainable manner without hindering domestic production capabilities.

Technology transfer and localisation at the core of the partnership

A central focus of the proposal is a full-scale technology transfer programme, which is designed to support the incorporation of manufacturing processes within Romania. The strategic initiative aims to further strengthen local industrial expertise and technical capabilities, enhance operational independence in defence production, foster collaboration with local industrial partners, and support Romania's national security objectives through long-term industrial investments.

Next steps

Beretta is ready to engage with Romanian authorities to define the scope of localisation, establish implementation timelines, and further detail the Industrial Participation and Technology Transfer Plan, ensuring we adhere with Romania's defence strategy and SAFE programme objectives.

About Beretta & Beretta Defense Technologies

Beretta (Fabbrica d'Armi Pietro Beretta SpA) is the oldest firearms manufacturer in the world and a founding member of the Beretta Defense Technologies (BDT) alliance of Beretta Holding companies supporting armed forces and law enforcement operators. BDT is a European defence industry leader in its segments and includes national champions such as Beretta (Italy), Sako (Finland), RWS (Germany), Norma (Sweden) and SwissP (Switzerland).

